1. INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

The identification of and investigations into ANCSA 14(h)(1) historical places and cemeteries could not have occurred without the frequent use of official U. S. government topographical maps. It is these maps, in a variety of forms and often heavily annotated with information gained from field observations or informant interviews that make up the bulk of this DVD collection.

For the most part the maps were created in the field and received heavy use. Many are what we refer to as “composites” comprised of two or more USGS maps that are taped together to describe a larger land area. Some of these composites (or mosaics as some prefer to call them) are quite large and are in various stages of disrepair from repeated folding, rolling, abuse associated with being stuffed into backpacks and helicopter compartments, or from exposure to the elements of wind, rain or spilled coffee.

The maps were produced and used over a 30 year time period from the mid-1970s to the present. Geographically they cover all of the major Alaska cultural areas with the exception of the Pribilof Islands, St. Lawrence Island, Little Diomedede Island and the majority of the North Slope from Point Hope eastward. Appendices A-D of this report contain details of map locations, sizes and content.

Much of the information contained on the maps has not been published. Due to the nature of the information, and the methods and individuals involved in its compilation, much of the data is unique and could not be replicated by any real or practicable means today. With this understanding, and given the fragile and deteriorating condition of many of the maps, the BIA ANCSA Office took steps to digitally and photographically reproduce the entire collection of maps for preservation purposes.

The primary goal of the duplication project is to preserve the annotated map data in its original context. BIA contracted with the Digital Photographic Services (DPS) lab of the Alaska and Polar Regions Archives at the University of Alaska Fairbanks' Rasmuson Library to accomplish the map duplication. At the same time all of the original maps were physically evaluated and when necessary were repaired with archival tape. DPS produced digital masters and 4" X 5" color transparencies of each map. (Technical details are presented in Section 3)

There are maps (or groups of maps) with 158 separate accession numbers included in the DVD collection. Providing an exact count of maps is not practical. There are maps of varying scales and some have been altered in other ways. In some cases an accession number applies to one simple map (e.g. one USGS quadrangle), others may refer to larger groups of individual sheets (e.g. 87CHU01 includes 35 quadrangles), and some maps include further designation by letter (e.g. 91ALT07 a, b, c, d). Several maps with unique accession numbers were not replicated as the information contained on them was not unique and are available elsewhere in the map collection.

2. ACCESS, USE AND INTERPRETATION OF MAPS

The information contained on the maps in this collection is raw data. Although much of the information is correct and has been verified or evaluated by various means, such corroboration must often be found elsewhere in the ANCSA Collections. Users are strongly encouraged to review Appendix B, Map Content Summaries, particularly the "Comments" relating to specific maps.

Disclosure of certain information pertaining to specific locations of archaeological sites is prohibited by federal and state laws. Authorized users are representatives of federal, state or local government on official business; researchers engaged in legitimate scientific research; individuals or representatives of organizations conducting cultural resource surveys aimed at protection of information and sites; or such individuals determined by the archivist or collection manager as having a legitimate need for access.

The authority for the State of Alaska, and the University to hold historic, prehistoric and cemetery site information confidential is contained in AS 9.25.120, Exception 4, which states that "records which are required to be kept confidential by a federal law" may be held confidential by the state. P.L. 96-95 (Archaeological Resources Protection Act of 1979, Sections 9a-b) requires such confidentiality for shared records.

The 1976 Amendment (P.L. 94-458) to Freedom of Information Act (P.L. 89-665) provides the Secretary of the Interior with the authority to withhold from public disclosure the specific location of archaeological resources which are listed on the National Register when it is determined "that the disclosure of specific information would create a risk of destruction or harm to such sites or objects."

3. TECHNICAL DATA AND FILE FORMATS (contributed by UAF Digital Photographic Services)

A. Scan and File Information

Camera: TTI 4x5 camera

Lens: Rodenstock Apo-Sironar-Digital 90mm f/5.6

Scanner: Phase One PowerPhase FX scan back

Lights: De Sisti CDM cold strike lamps 4200K

Scanning Computer: Mac G4, OS9, Phase One PowerPhase FX Image Capture, Phase One Uniform Light Tool, Photoshop 7.0

Editing Computers: Windows 2000 & XP, Photoshop CS, Roxio EZ CD/DVD Creator 6.0

Files: 300 ppi, TIFF, LZW compression, AdobeRGB

All of the maps were scanned at the same camera height so their relative resolution is the same. The height from the easel measured approx 56.5" to the front element of the lens, or 62" to the scanner/film plane. All maps were shot at f/11. All files were created at 300 pixels per inch with the "highest" resolution setting in Phase One Image Capture, which is a native (uninterpolated) resolution. Depending on their condition, maps were held flat with either a vacuum easel or plexiglass. Unevenness in light distribution was corrected with the Phase One Uniform Light Tool application. Maps larger than 40" x 60" in either dimension were scanned in multiple passes.

Master files are scans which have had only the following changes: cropping, rotating. They are identified with a lowercase "m" at the end of the filename, before the extension. Multiple scans of large maps are identified with appropriate locators such as "left", "right", "top", or "bottom" immediately preceding the "m."

Working (edited) files may have had one or more of the following changes: further rotating to get them as squared up as possible, tighter cropping, tonal correction for lightness and color accuracy, added contrast for readability, slight sharpening, and correction of flaws induced by the scanning process such as scratches on the glass or small color streaks from dust in the camera or on the scanner sensor.

Large maps that were scanned in multiple passes were joined in Photoshop and the edges stitched together as accurately as possible. Due to slight changes in wrinkles as the maps are moved for multiple scans, the stitches are not always flawless. When the edges did not meet perfectly we made sure that any information is represented twice rather than not at all. Stitched maps have all masters present in case there is any question about a stitch.

Finally all of the final working edited (.tif) files were also saved at screen resolution (72 dpi, .jpg) to facilitate access time and viewing. While the high resolution .tif files occupy 32 high capacity (4.7 gb maximum) DVD's, the lower resolution .jpgs occupy a small portion of just one disk (862 mb).

4. CONTENTS OF DISKS

File Naming. Most of the maps follow a standardized BIA ANCSA catalog identification scheme where a unique accession code comprised of a combination seven digits and letters represents a single map unit. For example, the code 91ALT07 indicates the year the map was created (1991), the field unit, village or ANCSA corporate region it applies to (Aleut Region) and a map identifier within the given field year (map 7). Camp codes are identified in Appendix E. Several groups of maps (e.g. boxes 28 and 30) follow a slightly different naming format.

In some cases a lower case letter may follow the alphanumeric code (e.g. 88ALT01a). If the postscript letter is part of the BIA ANCSA code this indicates a map in several parts or a series of maps with the same catalog designation. If the postscript was added by DPS then this indicates the map was duplicated by multiple scans. An example of this can be seen in Appendix A, map 93AHT02 where the letters a, b and c have been added by DPS to the filename as it appears in the "Masters" column, in the "Working" column the filename reads "93AHT02" indicating three scans were made and subsequently "stitched" into one map represented by one file. Sometimes DPS used the designations "left," "right," "top" or "bottom" instead of single letters to indicate multiple scans of large maps.

Without a doubt there are some anomalies and inconsistencies in the naming of digital files. Appendix A includes an inventory of each disk by digital file name.

5. REFERENCING THE MAP COLLECTION

82RSM01	Calista	Drozda		Holy Cross, Kwiguk, Marshall, Russian Mission	42 x 30	Blueline and mylar map of place names and site locations compiled by Ken Pratt in 1982. Different versions of this map were found at BIA ANCSA and UAF Archives and have been digitized as follows: "82RSM01a" is a blueline print with penciled place name addition by Drozda. The map is fragile, faded and yellowing. Map "82RSM01b" is an original ink on mylar film version of the same map, minus Drozda's notations and also missing a text box with note regarding place name coverage. This map is in very good condition. Several other documents including tabular place name data and correspondence regarding use and access of the map are included on disk 7 as .pdf files. The original printer's separation layers and film paste ups that were formerly accessioned as 90-103 at the Archives were destroyed by Drozda on August 26, 2005. The original mylar film, one folded blueline copy and supporting documentation is part of the AHP CPSU and ANCSA 14(h)(1) Collection, Series 1.09 Folder 6, Alaska and Polar Regions Collections, Archives, Elmer E. Rasmuson Library, University of Alaska, Fairbanks.

83VAK01	Calista	M. O'Leary	Marshall A-7, A-8, B-7, B-8	38 x 28	Constructed as a synthesis by J. Kurtz and Chevak crew following 1983 field season. Map shows ANCSA Sec. 14(h)(1) sites, some non-ANCSA sites and sites to be investigated during 1984 season. Marshall B-8 sheet annotated with typed descriptive labels. Sheets Marshall A-7 and B-7 have hand written notes suggesting they derive from aerial reconnaissance. A rather fragile map, in terms of its general construction and its applied labels. Companion to map 83VAK02. Sheet Marshall A-8 is nearly blank.
83VAK02	Calista	M. O'Leary	Hooper Bay A-2, B-2	39 x 30	Companion to 83VAK01. Similar in construction and annotated labeling. A synthetic summary map probably constructed following 1983 field season. Shows surveyed ANCSA sec. 14(h)(1) sites and other non-ANCSA sites. Fragile.
84VAK01	Calista	M. O'Leary	Black A-1, A-2, B-1; Kwiguk A-5, A-6, B-5, B-6; Hooper Bay D-1, D-2, D-3; Marshall d-6, D-7, D-8	77 x 56	Well-worn, heavily annotated composite for Black River area. Obviously served as a field map. ANCSA Sec. 14(h)(1) application areas originally color-coded by paper dots - most have now fallen off: Orange - 1981 site; Red - 1983 site; Green - settlement to be investigated 1984; Yellow - cemetery, to be investigated 1984; Blue - inactive serial number; Brown - closed file; Black - application received by BLM. Two different sets of applied labels also appear: one a typed variety, the other handwritten showing B-number concordance. Besides the labels are handwritten notations obviously derived from aerial reconnaissance and informant interviews. On the whole, a complex array of application data, site locations, place-names. Wear and tear has left it very fragile. This is a companion to map 84VAK02, which shows the area immediately southward.
84VAK02	Calista	M. O'Leary	Hooper Bay A-1, A-2, B-1, B-2, B-3, C-1, C-2, C-3, C-4; Marshall A-6, A-7, A-8, B-6, B-7, B-8, C-6, C-7, C-8	64 x 55	Companion to map 84VAK01. Well-worn, heavily annotated composite for Hooper Bay - Chevak area. ANCSA Sec. 14(h)(1) application areas are color coded with paper dots (where these have survived): Orange - 1981 site; Red - 1983 site; Green - settlement to be investigated 1984; Yellow - cemetery, to be investigated 1984; Blue - inactive serial number; Brown - closed file; Black - application received by BLM. Fragile.
84VAK03	Calista	M. O'Leary	Hooper Bay D-1, D-2, D-3; Marshall D-8	50 x 19	Map fragment of larger composite. Related to 1983 - 1984 Chevak field seasons. Possibly some later reuse. Color coded paper dots anomalous - they don't correspond readily to those on 84VAK01, 02. Map shows Scammon Bay vicinity. Heavily annotated with ANCSA Sec. 14(h)(1) application areas, site locations, place-names. Somewhat fragile. Probably related to map 84VAK04.
84VAK04	Calista	M. O'Leary	Hooper Bay C-1, C-2, D-1, D-2; Marshall C-8	38 x 38	Field map fragment, presumably from 1983 - 1984 Chevak field season. Heavily annotated with ANCSA Sec. 14(h)(1) application areas, site locations, place-names, aerial and ground reconnaissance notes. Color coded for application areas anomalous - coding does not coincide obviously with maps 84VAK01, 02. Generally fragile. Related to map 84VAK03.
84VAK06	Calista	M. O'Leary	Hooper Bay A-1, A-2, B-1, B-2, B-3, C-1, C-2; Marshall B-8	55 x 55	Field map heavily annotated with ANCSA Sec. 14(h)(1) application areas, site locations, reconnaissance notes, oral history data. Shows subsistence use areas, Native allotments for area south of Chevak. Some notes overwritten in black ink by M. O'Leary. Fragile. Assembled with masking tape which has bled into paper.

85TUT01	Calista	M. O'Leary	Baird Inlet A-4, A-5, A-6, B-4, B-5, B-6, C-4, C-5, C-6; Kuskokwim Bay D-4, D-5, D-6	73 x 41	Companion to maps 85TUT02, 86TNT01. Barrette's final concordance of investigated ANCSA Sec. 14(h)(1) sites and place-names gathered from Tuntutuliak and Kipnuk elders during 1985 field season. Orthography by David Enoch; place-names homogenized with '-llret' ending. Mostly field checked. Reliability good. Some material copied from earlier 84BAY field maps. Updated and slightly modified during 1986 field season. Includes some non-ANCSA sites. Application key: Green - case closed; Yellow - 1983 Tununak site investigation; Blue - 1984 Toksook Bay site investigation; Pink - 1985 Tuntutuliak investigation; X 061 - AHRS site. Note: several applications were arbitrarily moved by Barrette so that each fell on an actual archeological site. This was done without regard for land status (village selection, Native Allotment, etc.), and in some instances the relocated applications came to overlie existing "closed" application areas.
85TUT02	Calista	M. O'Leary	Baird Inlet A-1, A-2, A-3, B-1, B-2, B-3, C-1, C-2, C-3; Kuskokwim Bay D-1, D-2, D-3	70 x 42	Companion to maps 85TUT01, 86TNT01. Barrette's synthesis of ANCSA Sec. 14(h)(1) site distribution and place-name information for lower Kuskokwim River 1985-1986 investigations. Site names homogenized with "-llret" endings. Represents Barrette's official concordance of application areas with actual site locations. Notations for places west of Kuskokwim River largely 1985. Sites along lower right Kuskokwim bank and localities east of the river identified during 1986 field season. Kuskokwim mudflats sketched by David Enoch, who also supplied nearly all place-name orthography. Portage trails north of Kinak River copied from BLM navigability map, which purportedly derived Tuntutuliak elders. Place-names in upper Meroyuk and Kutukhun drainage's (Baird Inlet C-2, C-3) generally suspect or altogether incorrect; more accurate information for these areas appears on map 88CAL17. Map includes non-ANCSA site. Application key: Green - case closed; Pink - 1985 investigation; X 051 - AHRS site (yellow highlight). Note that in some cases where sites were not identified within application areas, the serial numbers were dragged some distance to cover a known site. This occurred without regard for land status, so that translocated serial numbers usually came to overlie existing, "closed" application areas.
